Dedication

At the beginning of the year, these pages stood blank, empty, awaiting someone to create and compile events, ideas, attitudes and feelings into what would hopefully become a story of life. The wait was not a very long one, for you came and you were the creators, the "someone" who made things happen. This book therefore is yours, molded by the ones who helped compile it with the aid of time and work into a story of life. The story is of a group of individuals who, for at least a year, came together as one, a story of an institution most belovedly referred to as Jordan-Matthews High School.

We have set our goals and planned our directions. The road is rough, indirect and filled with ruts. Some of us have been wandering this road for nearly four years now, striving for goals that, to most of us, are seemingly unreachable now. But there can be no turning back. We can make it; we must, for if we don't there will be no past worth looking back to and this book, a history, will be meaningless.

The key to success lies in our ability to support one another, to extend a helping hand, to be able to communicate and lend a listening ear, to possess and display joy and comfort of togetherness. And with this togetherness, be it honest and sincere, we can move mountains. And, in doing so, together, we shall achieve what future generations will call worthy.

SPIRIT OF '76

The class of '76 has almost finished its high school years. One thing the class can be remembered for is selling the least amount of magazines in recent years and still coming up with a good prom. You might say that our class is the biggest "claude" in the history of Jordan-Matthews. But out of these four years, in which the class of '76 became the "Spirit of '76", come memories which will linger in the hearts of us all forever.

The Betas are at it again! Not only did they liven up the steps of many around Oct. 10 by helping to sponsor a fantastic homecoming dance, but they fed the hungry at their Nov. bake sale. After all this enough "dough" was left to help support the annual by buying an ad!

To the Students of JM, 1975-1976:
This annual is the result of the combined efforts of a group of people known as the 1975-1976 Annual Staff. Throughout the past school year and even part of last summer, we dedicated ourselves to this volume. Credit is also owed to Sandy Ray and Mae Lane who helped us meet our deadlines. On these pages we have tried to recapture some of the memorable moments of this year in pictures and words. If we have given even one person something to remember, then all of our work was not in vain.

Sincerely,
The 1975-76 Annual Staff

The Cheerleaders worked hard this year to boost enthusiasm and school spirit while supporting the teams. They practiced long and hard this year. At Chapel Hill, where they attended Cheerleading Camp, their ability to learn quickly while expressing enthusiasm was tested. The results were two ribbons.

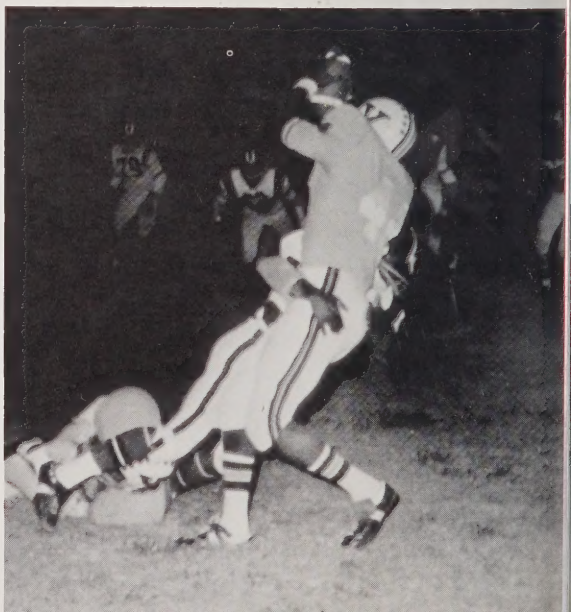
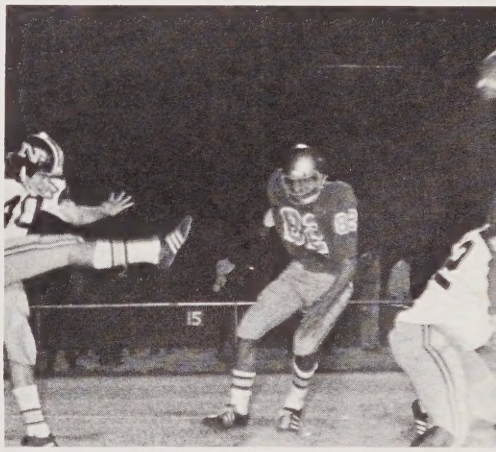
This is the first time in Mr. Wilburn's career that there were two ties in one season. The team was lead by the captains Gib Brooks and Barry Gray, who did a very good job in supporting the players. This was our best record in the Conference in four years. The Conference over all was strong, but the Jets managed to lose only one game and tie another. Our defensive play was superb, but the offensive performances were very inconsistent. Unfortunately, almost half of our team will be graduating this year, but they will be remembered as a fine squad.



The J.M. Jets squeeze through once again!

Why are those people with the white suits chasing me?

If you boys want that cake at the end of the season, then you better get in there and win!



I got the whole thing!

J.V. FOOTBALL

This was a rebuilding year for the girl's tennis team due to the loss of four of the top six players last year. The team finished with a 4-6 record which placed them fourth in the conference standings. With only two seniors graduating this year, next year's team should be much stronger than this year's team.

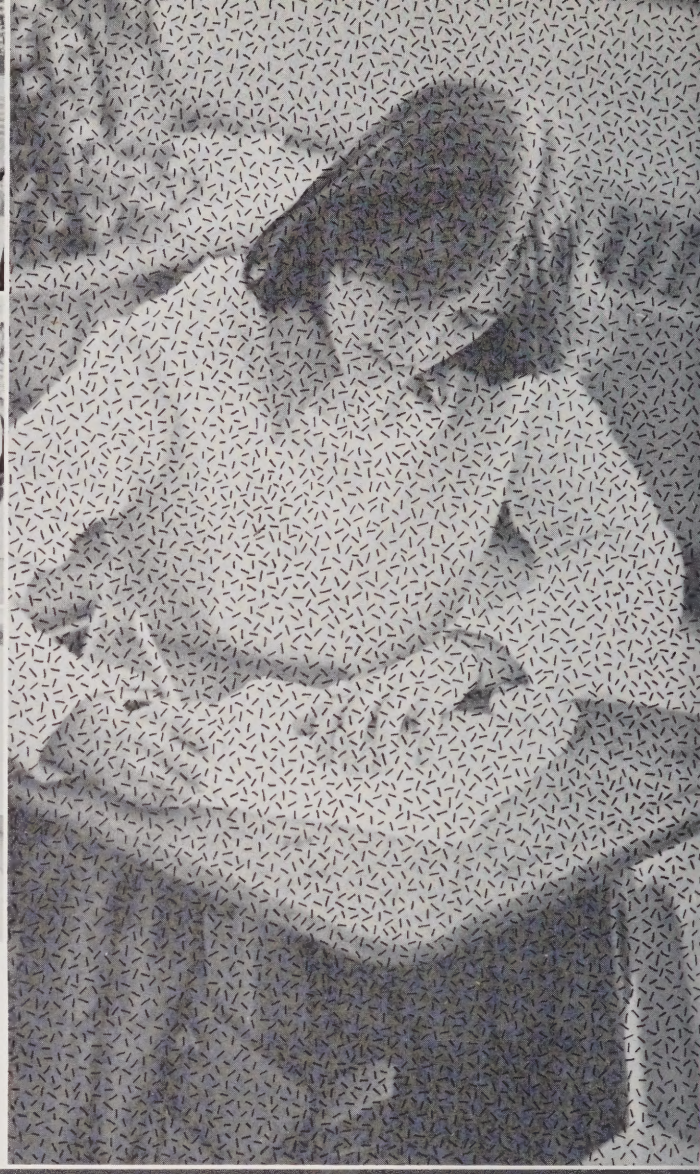
EXAMS



Many long hours were spent studying for mid-term exams. Tension piled up as the three days drew nearer; everyone prayed for snow. Some of us guessed, some of us knew and some of us cheated. Most of us pulled through. A gigantic celebration was held at the Armory in the Student Council sponsored dance.

Jimmy Montealegre was welcomed to Siler City by David Colquitt and his family on December 11. Jimmy arrived here from Chinandega, Nicaragua where lives with his family. He studies in León, which is thirty-two miles from his home. Jimmy was born in Brooklyn, NY. He is 17 and has three sisters. Jimmy's hobbies are playing sports, especially baseball, hunting, ping-pong, swimming, scuba diving and golf. When asked what his favorite thing here was, he replied, "friends." His future plans include being an Air Force Pilot. Jimmy left to return home February 29.

Mike Hughes and Kim Kennedy said their vows in a family life class "wedding."

The student body enjoyed an assembly by "Black, White, and Together."

Well, the SENIORS finally got a little respect from the Juniors.

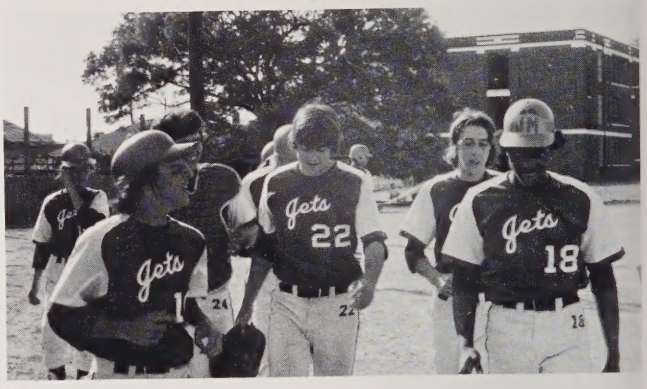
I've heard of making points, but this is ridiculous!



Due to lack of experience in key positions and a young pitching staff, the Jets struggled through their first losing season. If the returning seniors can provide the necessary leadership and the team eliminate the timely mistakes, it could possibly turn out to be a successful season.

The Jets enjoyed a successful season with a 9-1 record and the only defeat being 5-4 match with Union Pines. JM and Union Pines were co-champions for the regular season honors and JM came in second in the Conference Tournament, due partly to bad luck in the draw. Our team was strong from top to bottom this year and should be even stronger next season.

Once a Senior has his class ring, the inevitable graduation finally seems a reality. The school year is filled with enviable privileges. Seniors fill out college applications, job applications, no telling what other kinds of applications, and hopefully receive some kind of an acceptance from something. Spring seems to come sooner than it ever did before; and advisors and principal are teaching students something they thought they already knew how to do — walk! Parents and students get bored at Baccalaureate and wait with mixed emotions towards graduation. The moment finally comes. With "Pomp and Circumstance" ringing in their ears, they either burst into tears, or leave with tires squealing.

High school is remembering how "big" you felt when you got you're first homework assignment in the first grade and now wondering how you could have felt that way.
It's seeing an upset freshman who's late to class because he couldn't get his locker open.
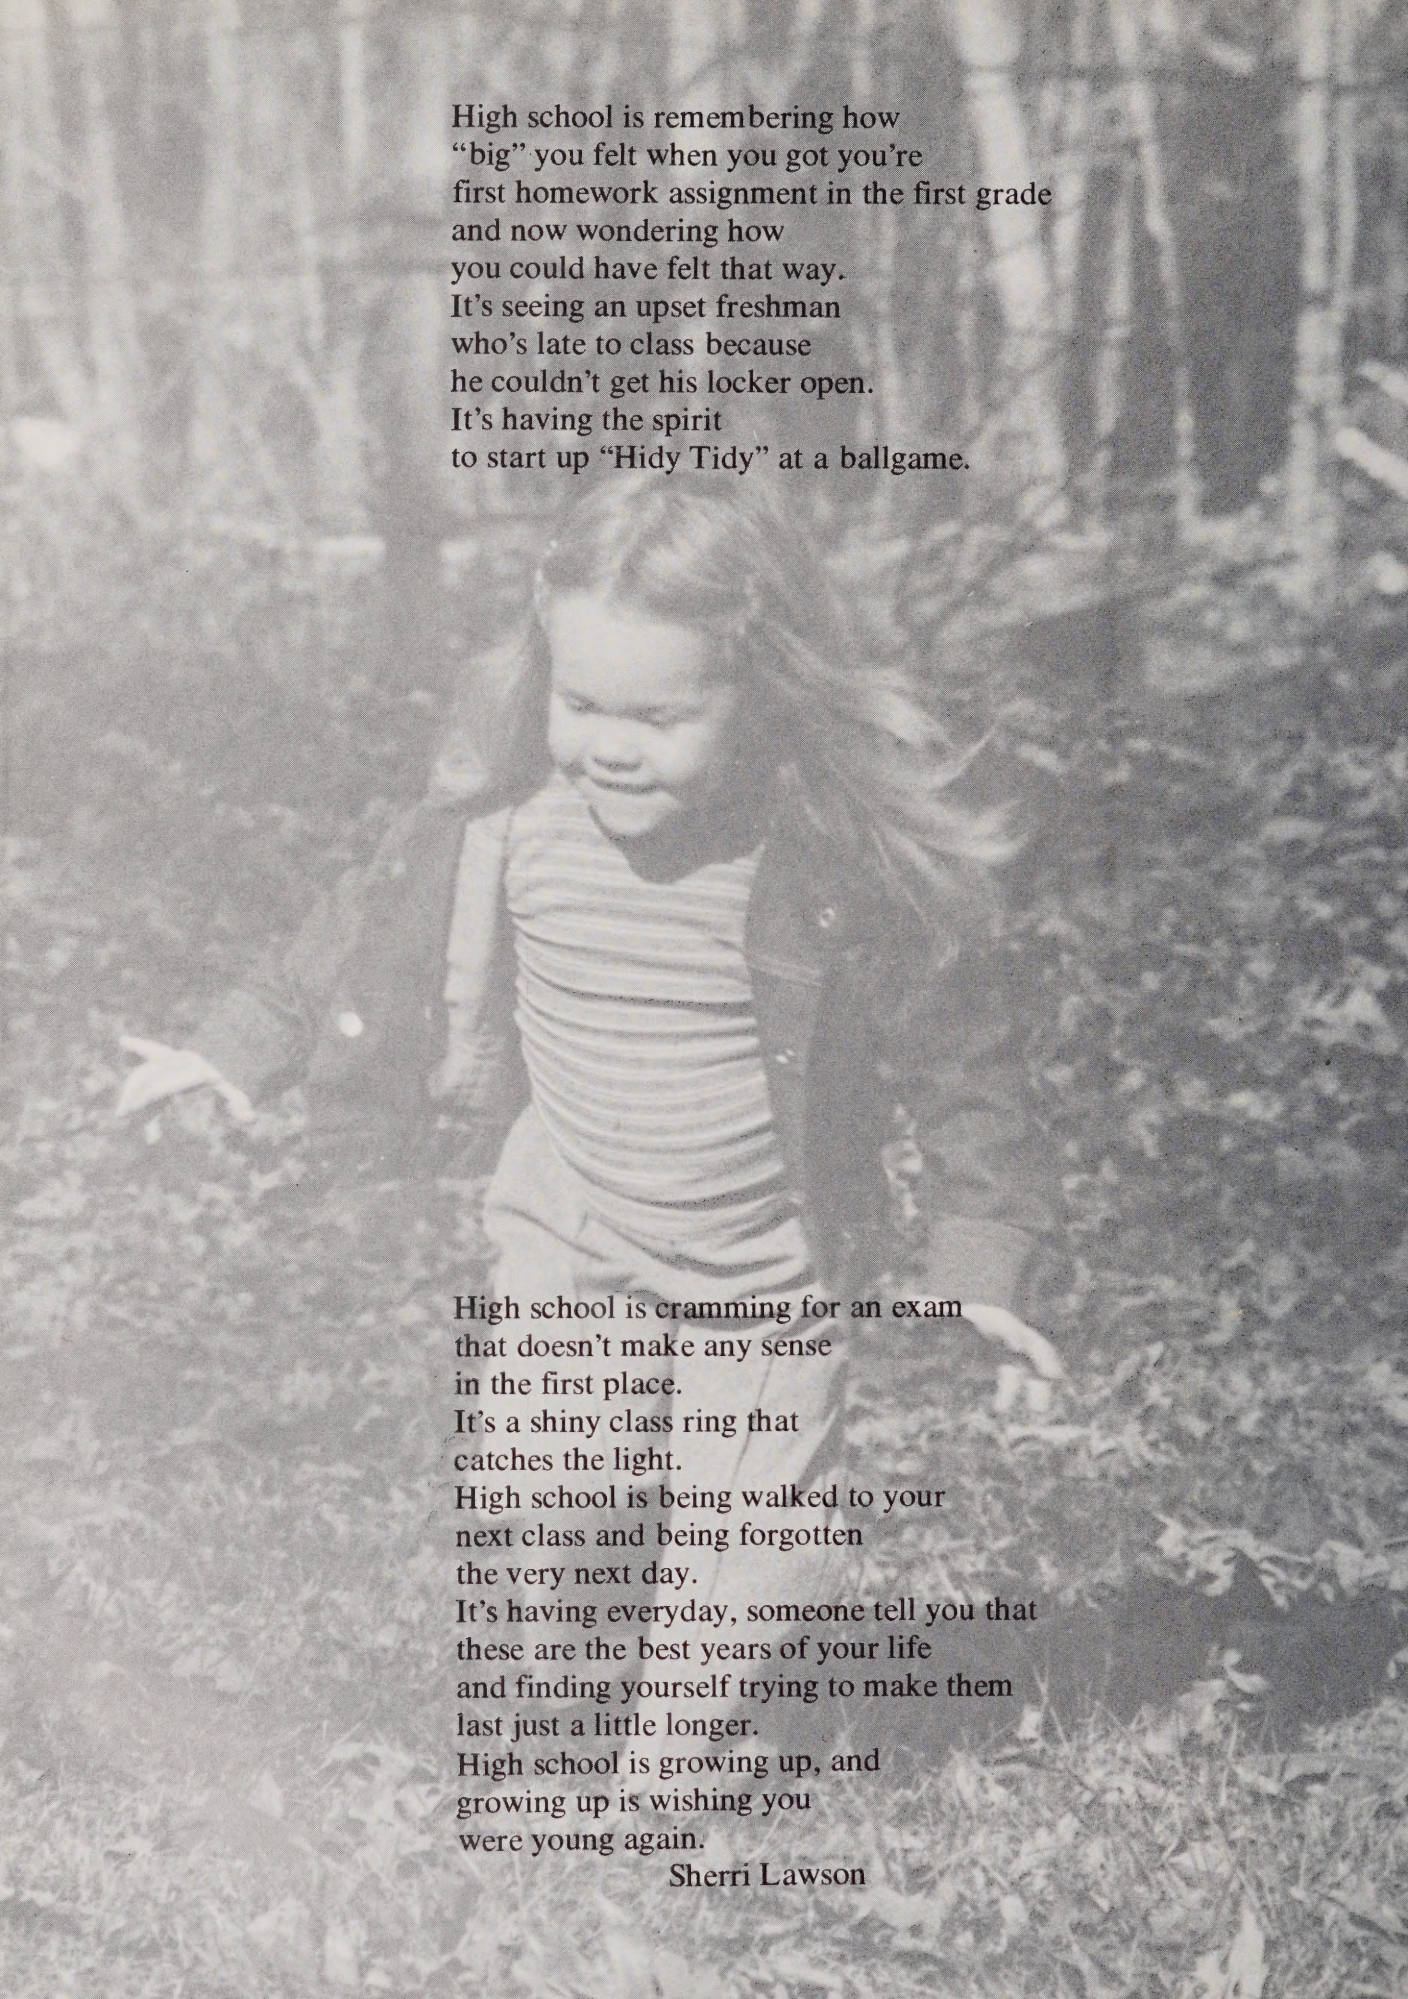
It's having the spirit
to start up "Hidy Tidy" at a ballgame.



High school is cramming for an exam
that doesn't make any sense
in the first place.
It's a shiny class ring that catches the light.
High school is being walked to your next class and being forgotten
the very next day.
It's having everyday, someone tell you that these are the best years of your life and finding yourself trying to make them
last just a little longer.
High school is growing up, and growing up is wishing you were young again.
